

Eli Whitney Earth Week

April 26th-30th

There are many endangered species in Connecticut and we can help improve their habitats by throwing out less garbage.

So, the week of April 26th-30th, there will be a "WASTE" LOSS COMPETITION to see which class can use the least amount of waste!

For example, can you substitute using a reusable Tupperware container instead of a plastic baggie? Or instead of individual chip bags, can you buy one bigger bag and put in a reusable container?

Each class will weigh garbage daily and chart it, then on Friday, April 30th it will be determined which class uses the least amount for the week! Also, on Friday, April 30th students can dress up like an endangered animal or animal of their choice.
